SENIORS ELECT W. FREDRICK PRESIDENT

Schumacher Heads Juniors; Eleetions Held Thursday.

Walter Fredrick of Strawberry Point was chosen senior president at the annual class elections held last Thursday morning. Assisting Fredrick will be Egbert Wagner as vice-president and Ruth Fritz as secretary-treasurer.

Fredrick majors in history and has been a straight A student several times in his past three years at Wartburg. He is serving his second consecutive year as sports editor of the Trumpet.

At a student body meeting on Thursday morning, the group decided to continue the pep club as in former years, the various classes electing two boys and two girls. The following were selected: seniors, Belva Wroilstad, Irma Loewen, Dave Chadwick, Ross Nielsen; juniors, Vivian Gluck, Eleanor Gross, Roland Wuest, Norman Becker; sophomores, Naomi Young, Ada Little, Martin Heist, Lewis Holm; freshmen, Myrna Ormsby, Arlys Wenzel, John Meyer, and Paul Zwanziger.

Eugene Leschensky, Alfred Mardorf, Arno Oberlester and Ernest Stassinopoulos of Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, were visitors on the campus last week-end.

PIANISTS PLAY FIRST LYCEUM

Students and friends of Wartburg college were at once thrilled and pleased as Miss Mary Gillette and Mr. Vincent Micari, duo-pianists of nationwide fame, presented the initial lyceum program of the current season in the college auditorium Wednesday, Sept. 21.

The program, a group of masterpieces of modern and classic composers, was handled by the young artists with the ease and finesse which they have acquired by long hours of practice. The gorgeously powerful climaxes which both artists controlled at will were matched only by their ability to extract from the piano grand pianos unbelievably delicate passages which seemed to whisper their tender messages to the eager listeners.

Two Encores Demanded.

From the beautifully fantastic "Danse Macabre" their outstanding interpretation of "Gollywog's Cake Walk." Miss Gillette and Mr. Micari played in perfect harmony and displayed rare coordination. The most intricate passages of "Rush Hour in Hong Kong" and the difficult "Rapid Fire" were played with well-disciplined accuracy as well as facile and reliable technique. After the playing of the "Blue Danube" the audience was so insistent it was necessary for the artists to play two encores.

It is certain, we may be sure, that Mr. Micari and Miss Gillette are finished musicians of undisputed merit. Wartburg college will no doubt look forward to hearing again their exquisite phrasing, thorough musicianship, and varied type of program which should never fail to fascinate their audiences.

HEADS BIOLOGY

Dr. Walter H. Schaefer, selected to head the Biology department, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and for the past three years taught in Salem college, Salem, West Virginia.

LUTHERANS VOTE L. S. A. OR LEAGUE

To Meet in Wartburg Hall Sunday; Kalkwarf to Preside, Dean Fritz to Advise.

Wartburg Lutherans will meet Sunday morning at 10:30 in the recreation room of Wartburg Hall to decide what form their organization of Lutheran students shall take on the campus for the coming year.

Past years have found a large number of students attending the Lutheran Students association on the campus, while another group has been attending the Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran church, it has been learned that some students favor the formation of a college Luther League while others favor continuation of the L. S. A. and cooperation with St. Paul's Luther League which has again extended an invitation to interested Wartburg students to attend.

Student body president Kalkwarf plans to have an open discussion in which all the possibilities and arguments may be presented to the entire Lutheran student body so that the resulting organization may get under way immediately.

Matthias Heads Dorm Regents

Otto Matthias was elected president of the new Regents board for the purpose of working with student problems in dormitory and campus decorum, in an election held last Thursday evening in Grossmann hall.

Four representatives were appointed with the group's consent to represent Grossmann dormitory and three others were selected from North Hall. Those selected were: Carl Kulkwarf, Helmut Fruehling, Dave Chadwick, and Walter Fredricks from Grossmann, and Paul Schaefer, Stanley Roesler, and Ben Ackerman from North hall.

Heating Facilities To Be Reorganized

Wartburg hall and Luther hall are being connected for heating purposes by means of an underground pipe line now being laid by Carsten Brothers of Ackley, Iowa, from the heating plant in the administration building.

The system at the same time is being changed from a steam to a vacuum system and additional radiators have been installed on the landing in Wartburg hall. Students are doing a large amount of the outside work.

Plans are also being made to connect the gymnasium to this same system in the near future as an efficiency and economy measure.

SCHAEFER, KLYNG McKINZIE, HEAD NEW PROFESSORS

With eight additional members, five women and three men, added to the staff, the Wartburg faculty officially opened classes on Thursday a. m. Sept. 8.

Dr. Schaefer

Dr. Walter H. Schaefer, for three years a member of the faculty of Salem college, Salem, W. Va., is head of the biology department during the two-year leave of absence of Prof. Elmer Hertel who is now studying at the University of Nebraska.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, from which he has a Ph. D. in biology, Dr. Schaefer was assistant in the zoology department of that institution for three years. He has been given nationwide publicity on his experiments with snakes in which he controls their skin shedding by regulating the activity of the thyroid gland.

Miss Klyng

The position of home economics instructor has been filled by Charlotte Klyng of Ames who received her B. S. degree from the University of New Mexico and her M. S. from Iowa State college. She has had several years of teaching experience in New Mexico schools and has also assist in the physical education department here.

Coach McKinzie

Athletic activities have been placed under Ralph McKinzie, former coach at Eureka college, Eureka, Ill. While attending this college, McKinzie was all-state fullback in football and all-state guard in basketball for three consecutive years. He received the additional honor of being chosen the best all around athlete in the history of the college.

From 1921-1937 Mr. McKinzie was coach at his alma mater. He completed graduate work for his degree at the University of Iowa this summer.

Mrs. McKinzie

Because of increased enrollment it is necessary to extend work of the English department. Mrs. Helen McKinzie, wife of the athletic director, has been selected to fill the department. Having received her M. A. from the University of Iowa this summer, she is well qualified to teach dramatics and be active in the speech department.

Miss Roark

Grace Roark of Warrensburg, Mo., has been engaged as assistant in the education department. She is a graduate of State Teachers college of Warrensburg and did graduate work at the University of Colorado and George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. Kilander

Carl I. Kilander has accepted the position as instructor in German, French, and History. He received his B. A. degree from Gustavus Adolphus college where his father was instructor in languages for 40 years, and took his M. A. degree in modern languages at Nebraska University.

Mr. Kilander has taught at Westminster college at Fulton, Mo. at Nebraska university and at Bethany college in Kansas. Recently he has been completing work toward a doctor's degree at Columbia University.

Wartburg hall has a new matron in the person of Mrs. Rose Larsen Bahn, a new position of the staff, as the dormitory was supervised last year by Katherine Ludolph, one of women, who resigned last spring.

Two instructors have been added to the music department staff. They are Elizabeth Burney Schmidt of Cedar Falls, who will give private lessons and instruct in the college classes.

Marilys Schwarck of Cedar Falls has also been added and she will offer lessons in violin, viola and cello.

HOME ECONOMICS

Miss Charlotte Klyng was selected as the new home economics instructor and will also have charge of ladies' physical education.

DEBATERS BEGIN WITH NEW COACH

Noduft, Fahrenholz, Schmitz Only Veterans Reporting; New Prospects Good.

Mrs. R. McKinzie, newly appointed debate coach at Wartburg, has outlined in preliminary meetings a very busy year for her squads. Thus far a small group has responded and several others are expected to answer a general call next week.

Three experienced debaters have reported for work this year: Edgar Noduft, who debated at Ames last year, Gerald Fahrenholz, who did some work at Wartburg, and Charles Schmitz, who debated at Wheaton college in his freshman year. Two others, Edwin Schick and Norman Orth, have had high school experience.

Although six others who expressed an interest in debate during registration week have not reported as yet, Coach McKinzie reports that she will call a meeting of all those interested and she plans to have a squad for ladies as well as for men.

Mrs. McKinzie Heads Pep Club

Under the efficient leadership of Mrs. McKinzie the Pep club this year expects to go a big step forward. The Pep club this year will get out and work for more pep as evidenced by the enthusiasm showed at the mixer.

The club is comprised of four members from each class plus the cheer leaders, of whom Sig Sandrock is the head. The object is to have these members full pep at the games. These members will scatter through the crowd.

Mrs. McKinzie who is leading the Pep club has been active in pep circles in former years. She was Booster club president at Sunnyside college, Eureka, Ill. It is hoped that with Mrs. McKinzie's aid the Pep club will complete one of its most successful years.

HITCH HIKER IN LUCK; FAILS TO SECURE RIDE

Last Tuesday must have been his lucky day, or Ross Nielson, Wartburg senior, might have been involved in a serious accident.

Early Tuesday morning Ross was hitch-hiking back to school from his home in Denver, Iowa, when an Armour company meat truck passed him by, but he was picked up shortly afterward by the driver of another vehicle. A mile north of Denver they came upon the truck overturned in a ditch. Failing to see the driver, they assumed he had gone to a nearby farmhouse for assistance and continued on their way. Papers next morning carried the story of the death of Clarence Castele of Dubuque, driver for the Armour Co. who was pinned beneath the side of his truck.

ENROLLMENT AT WARTBURG SHOWS 26% GAIN

Iowa Contributes 143; Wisconsin Second with 28.

As the result of an intensive solicitation campaign carried on during the summer months, Wartburg college now has a record-breaking enrollment of 238 full-time students carrying an average load of 14 hours. According to an official report issued by the office of the registrar last Thursday, this year's student body is composed of 99 women and 139 men. Compared with last year's enrollment of 176 full-time students, the 1938-39 enrollment shows an increase of a little more than 26 percent.

Although an accurate survey has not as yet been completed, it is estimated that there are approximately 143 students from Iowa, 28 from Wisconsin, 17 from Minnesota, 12 from South Dakota, 11 from North Dakota, 11 from Illinois, 9 from Nebraska, 3 from Texas, 3 from Canada, 2 from Kansas, and one from Oregon.

Sixty Pre-Thes.

When registration had been completed and when classes had finally got under way on Thursday Sept. 8, 60 individuals had classified themselves as Pre-Theological students. Other courses in order of popularity were: elementary teachers 38, four-year teachers 32, liberal arts 32, business administration 28, pre-engineering 24, pre-nursing 9, pre-medic 6, public school music 4, pre-pharmacy 3, pre-dentistry 1, home economics 1.

Credit for this year's increase in enrollment is given to Rev. C. Shalkhauser, director of public relations. Mr. Eugene Leschensky, and the committee of faculty members headed by Professor A. W. Swensen, who spent parts of the summer and in some cases the entire summer, soliciting prospective students. Professor Swensen and the committee of faculty members concentrated their efforts in the state of Iowa and particularly in the immediate area surrounding Waverly, while Rev. Shalkhauser and Mr. Leschensky canvassed the bordering states. Mr. Waldemar Langholz acted as field man during the month of August.

COLLEGE MIXER WELL ATTENDED

Take two cups of new friends, three teaspoons of fun, a tablespoon of pep, four squares of food, and a pinch of music. Mix well and bake until thoroughly done. Yes, you've guessed it! What else could it be than the recipe for the "get-together" mixer held on the Wartburg college campus Friday, Sept. 9, under the direction of Prof. H. Kuhlmann, chairman of the student activities committee.

Following the theme of "I Am I, You Are You" several games were played in which the students were given a chance to meet each other. Games followed in which the fat and the lean, the tall and the short united in the various teams and courageously participated in a tug-of-war for the prize lollypops. Pres. E. J. Braulick and Carl Kalkwarf, student body president, competed with all the students and complimented them on their fine spirit and large turn-out. Lunch was served on the Wartburg college campus.

Committees in charge of the mixer were: Entertainment, Prof. Kuhlmann, Prof. C. Kalkwarf, Mrs. R. McKinzie, Ben Ackerman, Eleanor Gross, Carl Kalkwarf and Elmer Hendricks; Food, Mrs. R. Larsen, Miss C. Klyng and Arlena Carstensen.

Why the Church's Educational Program

Why the Church in Education—The world crisis is not primarily financial, but moral and spiritual. If it were financial only, the bankers would have solved it long ago. The results are so devastating because it is fundamentally a spiritual breakdown. A new leadership with a Christian motivation must assume control. What a man believes does determine what he does. The value of the trained mind and the Christian heart in government, business, industry, society and religion has been acknowledged. The church has the responsibility of producing this leadership.

Why the Church Follows Its Students—By our separation of church and state, state universities, colleges, and normal schools are legally restrained from teaching Christianity. Students are young, inexperienced, away from home, and making life decisions. Some professors shake the faith of students by agnosticism and skepticism. Students become the leaders of their state, the school, and the church. They must be Christ's men and women. They need Christ and the church.

Why the Church Colleges—It believes in a personal God, a divine Christ, an immortal soul, and an imperative duty. It believes that any course is defective which fails to give place to the truths of Christianity. Its faculty is composed of scholarly Christian men and women. Its students are taught to live economically, to think clearly, and to act nobly. Its product is the well-trained, cultured Christian man and woman.

Pres. E. J. Brauhch.

Boost Trumpet Advertisers

Trite but true is the time worn statement that a newspaper is supported by its advertisers. The Trumpet is no exception and we are heartily grateful to those business men who have shown their confidence in Wartburg students and their paper. Let us on our part, patronize those merchants and thus show that we appreciate their courtesy toward and interest in the school.

—T—

The Man Behind the Scenes

It may get monotonous, but if credit is given where credit is due, Charley Pichelmeyer, our able and efficient janitor, should receive quite a few compliments for his splendid work this summer. Always on the job with a grin, Charley has kept the campus and buildings in tip-top shape so that Wartburg need never be ashamed of the appearance of the grounds. Yes sir, for a small man, Charley does some big things.

And the Music Goes 'Round

From all indications, the music will go 'round and 'round the campus this year and the reverberations should spread far beyond Waverly. With a record number of aspiring vocalists trying for places, another banner year is in view for the college choir and the chapel choir can be expected to continue its fine work. The registration for vocal classes and formation of trio and quartet are other favorable signs of musical activity.

Especially encouraging is the promise of the best pep band in the history of the school under the inspirational leadership of Professor Beist. A few instrumental ensembles and an orchestra and the musical cup of plenty would be overflowing, thanks to the diligent efforts of those two great men of music, Prof. E. Liemohn and Prof. E. Heist.

Freshmen Oriented By Tests, Lectures

A series of orientation lectures and tests greeted the freshmen during the first days of school to aid them in learning the ropes and getting acquainted with the ways of Wartburg.

Prof. J. Hiltner had charge of the intelligence test and Prof. H. Kuhlmann supervised the English placement test. Dean Fritz and Miss I. Marie Scheie lectured to the freshmen on study habits and the proper use of the library.

The Misses Irene Gluck, Gladys Bauer and Doris Krause of Readlyn visited at the college last last week-end while attending the teachers' institute at the Waverly high school.

Bernard Ackermann

Fourteen days after the United States entered the World War (April 19, 1917) when the whole country was at the height of excitement, when planes were dropping bombs, the stork quietly found its way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Ackermann, residing on a farm near Palmer, Iowa, to deliver a bundle—a token of peace. There was great joy in the Ackermann home for the bundle contained a baby boy who even at that time showed promises of a future of which they could feel proud. Because the son found his way into their home at such a time of turmoil, they decided to call the son Bernard which Noah Webster defines as "a hardy bear." Ben attended grammar school in a little white school house a few paces from home. In 1930, he left his father's country estate to attend high school at Palmer, Iowa. In the fall of 33, he packed his belongings, bid adieu to his friends and loved ones, and set out on his journey across the wilderness to Moorhead, Minn., where he spent his first year of college at Concordia. Ben, however, knew that Wartburg college would supply his quest for knowledge better than any other school, so the following year he enrolled at Wartburg as a sophomore Pre-The. This year he is actively engaged in debating. His favorite topics brought up in the student council. Besides the council, Ben is a member of the Schleicher Verein and Pre-The society.

When asked what his favorite sport was, Ben answered, "Basketball, maybe bridge, if that is classified as a sport." His pet peeve seems to be "electric razors." Prof. Carl Lange has him because one time he almost got electrocuted, or was it the person with you, Ben?

Herbert Henry Adix

Herbert Henry Adix, son of Rev. and Mrs. Henry L. Adix of Marcellin, Iowa, was born Christmas gift to his parents in the year 1917—well, he was born on the thirteenth of December, but he still was a Christmas gift.

Herbert was the first to enroll here at Wartburg when it opened four years ago. Since then he has been with us.

It is almost useless to tell you what "Herb's" hobby is—all you have to do is visit his room and you'd see that photography is his line. (He claims that it's amateur photography.) He experiments with various makes of cameras and knows "camerology" from beginning to end.

However, photography isn't his only pastime. He also delights in seeing movies. As his favorite actress, he chose Sonja Heine, "Sonja—a perfect specimen of woman—a perfect specimen of womankind." Claudette Colbert also has Herbert as one of her many admirers, but Sonja is first. Non-fiction offers best entertainment for Herbert, but for the extra spice in movies, he delights in seeing the Ritz brothers and the Marx brothers.

Herbert hates upperclassmen who themselves never were initiated and who now try to boss and supervise all initiation (Don't we all?) He claims that he has many more pet peeves but his roommate wasn't in and he alone couldn't recall any of them.

Herb's biggest thrill was seeing the Dionne quintuplets this last summer. He says, "I got a big kick out of it. They're cuter than the picture of them I've ever seen. Pictures have never done the 'Five' justice." We always knew Herbert had an eye for beauty!

After graduation Herbert intends to do either one of two things, go to the Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque, or teach biology. "Best of luck in either one, Herb!"

Students Take Off For Gun Club More Fun!

by Esther Weiss

Wartburgers shivered themselves out of bed Tuesday morning. But there was something in the air —besides our frosty breath. Suddenly the noise resolved itself into "Outfly! Outfly!" Wartburg's traditional all-day picnic had come—or we crossed our fingers and hoped that it had. Breakfast was a howl—for Outfly.

The band assembled—a freshie band with Rudy Langholz as director—and away we went, symposiums ideas! After everyone had assembled at the flag-pole, the mob, except the group marched down the street to Prof. H. J. Kuhlmann's home. We must march, of course, on Outfly day, so Professor sleuthfully holding onto that tradition, sent us to the administration building. We whooped—we hollered—and finally, the anxiously awaited verdict comes, "Yes!"

So Ausflug it was. We flag ass to our usual picnic grounds, the Waverly Gun club, by truck, car, motorcycle, on foot, and bicycle. We played horse-shoe, kittenball, football, volleyball, went boating, and slept in the sun (the co-eds to thaw out a bit from the cold week-end). One exciting moment was when the call for eats came—Russ, our cook, helped things along by being just one of "us." Another exciting moment was the few seconds when Ruth Fritz "fell in."

In the evening the Waverly Theatre was kind enough to let all of us guys and gals see Bob Taylor in "The Crowd Roars". We enjoyed it even at the hats shown in one of the features were funny and Hank got the giggles.

No matter how regular Outfly comes, we still wish it would come oftener. But perhaps we should have two Outfly days in succession—one to rest up in, so that we wouldn't look and act as dopey in classes as we did Wednesday.

Editor's Notebook

"In the beginning God—" The powerful first words of the Bible have a compelling ring in them now as at all other times. Away from friends of the past, home and familiar surroundings—but still God, all-powerful, all-loving, watching still as He did "in the beginning."

* * *

The poignant words of old Themistocles continue yet as the silent prayer of all of us who have suffered in one form or another. Teach me not the art of remembering, but the art of forgetting for I remember things I do not wish to remember, but I cannot forget things I wish to forget."

* * *

Conjointly with the opening of school doors and football practice came the words which a cartoonist put in the mouth of a deeply-concerned preptster as he turned his thoughts to the future: "Picking a college to go to is serious business—the school with a winning team this year might be a loser next."

* * *

"Wartburg Frosh Runner-Up in Milking Contest"—almost yo editor was tempted to blazon these words across the top of a page somewhere. It might have looked good back in the sports department at that. The man with the long black beard and the all-seeing eye had the final say though, so read the column for the real lowdown.

* * *

Three words seem to plague me this evening, words of wisdom from a haunting mystical period of the past. The ancient Indian writer of the so-called Upanishads recites in the 16th Khanda, "Man is sacrifice, and thinking stops with a jolt on those words. They seem to bore into inner purposes and principles, questioning our motives and our deeds. The tender of conscience shy away, but to a Christian they are the challenge of One Who was the greatest Sacrifice and in Whose footsteps we are to follow with the sorrow of suffering but the joy of service and eternal reward.

Schumacher Will Lead German Club

The first German club meeting was called to order by president Schumacher last Monday evening in Luther Hall for the purpose of organization and election of officers.

Business session proposals accepted were: a nominal membership fee of twenty-five cents per semester per member and the election of the following officers: vice president, Norbert Augst and secretary-treasurer, Theophile Doyen.

A program committee will be appointed by the president. This committee will be responsible for the future program. They will meet with Mr. Cornils, the advisor, to make a plan of future events, which hope to entertain as well as train German students.

Mr. Schumacher praised the prestige of former German clubs; he hopes more members will turn out. Mr. Cornils, in a short speech, expressed his hope for the future success of the German club. If the club meets every month with as much enthusiasm as it did on its first meeting, presentation of a German play will be attempted.

STUDENTS HEAR BRAULICK OPEN CONVOCATIONS

Schlueter, Professors Deliver Messages to Assembly.

The first convocation speaker of the current year was Pres. E. J. Braulick, who addressed the student body on Thursday, Sept. 8, using as his theme "Our Outlook on Life."

"You have come here filled with ambition," said President Braulick. "You plan on upholding the record you have established in the past. Those aims are laudable, and it is proper that we assemble about God's Word."

As examples of two opposite outlooks on life, the speaker referred to Lot, who "pitched his tents toward Sodom," and to Daniel, who, realizing that he was unable to forge his own success without the help of God, "opened his windows toward Jerusalem." If we follow in Daniel's footsteps, it is President Braulick's conviction that we will find success.

"I would counsel you to remember him. Will you not open your heart?" were President Braulick's concluding words.

Discusses Prayer.

The college pastor, Rev. R. C. Schlueter, appeared in convocation on Monday, Sept. 12, and discussed prayer as it applies to our own personal life, emphasizing the fact that we must exercise our prayer life to keep it healthy.

"Have you ever sat by yourself and contemplated about God?" asked Rev. Schlueter. "You have prayed then."

"Real prayer is an honest to goodness exercise. It is not an anemic thing by any means. There is something about a rich devotional life which electrifies a person. If you want to study better or teach better, steal away by yourself and pray."

Activities.

"Let's come together and play," was the invitation which Prof. H. J. Kuhlmann, chairman of the activities committee, extended in convocation on Tuesday, Sept. 13 when he urged the students to join in the social life on the campus.

"Good wholesome fun," observed the committee chairman, "plays an important part in our life. The more pleasant you make the year, the more profitable it will be."

At the same convocation, Coach McKimzie told of his plans in the athletic sphere. "My hope," he said, "is to make it possible for every student to have part in some recreation during the year. You need it for your health."

Hillner Speaks.

The ever-important problem of how to get along with others provided material for Dr. Hillner's discussion in convocation on Wednesday, Sept. 14. His advice was: "If you find it hard going sometimes, take a look at the good Lord and follow His example."

Dr. Hillner pointed out that since life is a system of getting adjusted, it is extremely important that we learn the art of getting along with others. If we fail to do this, we will fail also in our other endeavors.

"Unless you begin to see in your fellow student a brother in Christ," said Dr. Hillner, "you will not make your course in the fine art of living. There will be friction. Always treat your fellowmen as an end to all, not as a means."

White Feathers.

Pres. E. J. Braulick spoke about "White - feathered Christianity" in convocation on Wednesday, Sept. 21, using Mark as an example of one who displayed this type of Christianity, but who changed to a true Christian.

"We start out with a great deal of zeal and enthusiasm and yet when the test hour comes, we are found wanting," were the words of the speaker. "Life gets easier and easier and one day we show up the white feather."

"The white feather may remain hidden from others for a while, but it will inevitably display itself if one is afraid to pay the price. He who shows the white feather will in the end be a coward in his own eyes."

The closing comment of President Braulick was: "It will be a successful year if we don't have white-feathered Christianity."

Letters have been received from Ewald Metzger, who has attended Wartburg the past four years. He is now enrolled at DeKalb (Illinois) State Teachers college.

TESTS GIVEN TO CHOIR ASPIRANTS

Ninety-two students have registered for membership in the Wartburg college choir since the call to all aspiring singers went out Monday, Sept. 12.

Prof. E. Liemohn conducted tests in musical achievement, pitch, tonal memory, and rhythm taken from the Seashore measure of musical talent. The pitch, tonal memory, and rhythm tests were given with the aid of a phonograph. Vocal tests are still being given. Competition is keenest in the alto and tenor sections.

Chapel Choir.

The chapel choir will perform in convocations and at local functions. All those who did not register for the first choir but who would like to secure some choral experience, are invited to try out for this choir.

The permanent selection of the members of the two choirs will not take place for at least two weeks, since attendance at the rehearsals plays a great part in membership.

Prof. Liemohn is considering staging an operetta, it would be produced early next spring with the cast of the members selected from the chapel choir.

PRE-THE

Faithful in Little Things

We are given many little opportunities and responsibilities. Littleness is why we so often pass them by. They do not seem big enough to merit our attention; they should appear more significant to demand from us our time and effort. Yet these little opportunities and responsibilities are in a sense our greatest measure of success with them qualifies or disqualifies us to be entrusted with greater responsibilities and to be given wider opportunities. For only he who is faithful in little things will be faithful in the great things also. In the parable of the pounds Jesus tells us of a certain nobleman who went "to a far country to gain for himself a kingdom. Before leaving he called to him ten of his servants and gave them ten pounds with which they were to trade. Now that did not give each servant a large sum. Does not the opportunity given them seem rather limited and small? Does the responsibility of being entrusted with one pound with which to trade seem great? However small the opportunity may have been, it was a golden opportunity. For the one faithful servant gained with his one pound another ten and when his nobleman received them, he said to him:

"Well done thou good servant, because thou wast found faithful in a very little, have authority over ten cities."

Still another servant was indifferent to the opportunity given him, and he disregarded it. He felt no great responsibility by being entrusted with only a small portion of his nobleman's wealth. But his lord felt differently and condemned him for his unfaithfulness.

Throughout the school days here at Wartburg many little opportunities will come our way. Perhaps it will be a chance to be the good Samaritan to a fellow student in college, or to do a special little service for our club or organization, opportunities to personally sponsor Christian fellowship and good will, to place the best possible construction on the deeds and words of others.

Little opportunities—but important. Christian, do you value them?

Little responsibilities—but offering a great reward when faithfully attended. Christian, will you seek to serve diligently in a spirit of Christian humility?

Surely then, the reward of faithfulness will be given us. Our Lord will comment, saying:

"Because you were found faithful in a very little, well done, good servant. Your reward shall be great!"

—Frederick Bracher

Pre-Thes Meet To Plan Year

The organization meeting of the pre-theological society was called to order by President Frederick Bracher at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 15. Election of officers and discussion of the year's program comprised the main business. Charles Schmitz was elected secretary-treasurer and Alfred Doerfler, vice president. The society decided to meet every third Sunday, either in the afternoon or evening.

It was voted that the president appoint a standing committee, headed by the vice president, to draw up a program for the year and present it to the society at the next meeting. The secretary-treasurer was asked to have copies of the constitution for distribution to each member at the next meeting. Also in past years the junior and senior pre-theologians will conduct table prayers and chapel services in the men's dormitory.

The society decided to aid in the conducting of matin services at St. Paul's Lutheran church by acting as ushers. This duty will devolve upon the juniors and seniors. The freshmen and sophomore pre-theologians will attend to ushering in daily convocations.

DOERFLER AT BOOKSTORE ANNONCES TIME SCHEDULE.

Alfred Doerfler of Austin, Texas has been appointed senior manager of the Wartburg book store for the new school year. He will be assisted by Barbara Freymiller and Gladys Bredall.

Mr. Doerfler announced the following time schedule when the book store will be open for the business and the delivery of mail: Every day from 8:00 to 4:30, with the following exception: 8:00 to 8:55 and 10:15 to 11:05 Tuesdays and Thursdays and 10:45 to 11:05.

HAIL ALUMNI!

At the beginning of the new school year we wish to extend a greeting to all members and friends of Wartburg college Alumni. Your president grects you and hopes that your interest and attention will be constantly focused on your alma mater.

A large number of new students has been enrolled for the ensuing school year. We bid them a hearty welcome at Wartburg to the intent that they will always feel themselves a part of it and keep Wartburg's welfare at heart. Some day we want them all to be active members of our Alumni Association.

We have been digging somewhat into ancient history. We found this item, which should be of interest to a large portion of our Alumni membership. The Wartburg College Alumni Association (Clinton Department) was organized on occasion of the dedication of the new Wartburg college building at Clinton, Iowa, in 1894. The first minutes were dated Oct. 9, 1894. A little arithmetic will reveal that 1939 will be the forty-fifth anniversary of this organization year. May this fact be an incentive to all of us to renew our interest in Wartburg college of today, which stands ready to serve the young people of the church and thereby the church as such in providing Christian higher education for them.

The first officers of the Alumni association of 1894 were: President, the Rev. George Wenz, now living at Oshkosh, Wis.; first vice-president, Dr. John Fritschel, now living at Clinton, Iowa; second vice-president, the Rev. Otto Wilke, now living in Madison, Wis.; third vice-president, Prof. August Bartels; recording secretary, Dr. Herman Fritschel, now living at Milwaukee, Wis.; treasurer, Dr. C. H. Craening, now living at Waverly, Iowa.

May we live up to the fine ideals of these pioneer leaders of our Alumni association.

—Louis G. Krebs, Alumni President.

TO THE ALUMNI

Dear Alumni:

Every school paper wants and needs the encouragement and support of its alumni. We feel that the school paper is the best means of binding together the students of the past and the student of today and maintaining the spirit that is Wartburg. The Knights of the present should be made to feel the traditions and the fellowship which have been the portion of those who attended Wartburg in the past.

In order to do this it is necessary to cooperate, both by sending in your subscription to the circulation manager, and by sending in any news which you may know of to the editor or alumni president. Any bit of information which may be of interest to present students or to your classmates will be welcome.

Finally we plan to print an alumni edition Oct. 8, the week before Homecoming. The success of this experiment will depend entirely on the cooperation which is received. We want to do our part toward building a greater Wartburg—are you with us?

—The Trumpet Editor.

DOCTOR RAUSCH CALLED TO REST

Friends and alumni of Wartburg college mourned the passing of Dr. Emil H. Rausch, president of Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa, who departed this life Friday, Aug. 19. A large number of Wartburg professors, students and alumni attended the services held in Dubuque on Monday, Aug. 22, and in St. Paul's church in Waverly on Tuesday.

Dr. Rausch was an alumnus of Wartburg and a close friend of the school throughout his distinguished career. He attended the old Wartburg during the pioneer days before the turn of the century, graduating in 1894. In August, 1903, he became pastor of the college church, St. Paul's of Waverly, and began a long period of association with college students which lasted until 1932, when he was elected president of Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque. He kept an active interest in Wartburg during the past few years when his daughter, Hedwig, attended the college, graduating in June, 1938.

Doctor Rausch was born in Parma, Ohio, on Nov. 19, 1874, the son of Gideon Frederick Rausch and his wife, Louise (nee Klimer). After an early education in a Toledo Christian day school, he progressed through Wartburg college, Waverly, and Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, graduating from the latter in June, 1898.

His first charge was at Peoria, Ill., and during these first years of his ministry he married Miss Martha Keyser of Dubuque. After three years he moved to Marine City, Mich., and from there to the pastorate of St. Paul's in Waverly. In 1902 Dr. Rausch assumed the presidency of Wartburg seminary, holding that position until his demise.

Doctor Rausch held many positions of honor and service in the church. He served as editor of the Lutheran Herald, official paper of the Iowa synod, for 16 years and during this period he also did considerable work in translations from the German. During the World War he was made a member of the National Lutheran Committee for Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare, and later served on the National Lutheran Council.

He served as president of the Iowa district of the Iowa synod for many years. Augustana Lutheran Seminary conferred on him the degree of D. D., and later Luther college of Decorah added the degree of LL. D.

The surviving family consists of the wife and seven children: Mrs. H. Richmann, Waverly, Ia.; Edmund, Chicago; Rev. Alfred Readlyn, Ia.; George, Waterloo; Emil, Rock Island, Ill.; Katherine and Hedwig, Dubuque. Burial was in Harlington cemetery at Waverly.

The most fitting recognition of his talents is that which is found on the seminary records, inscribed there by his colleagues and fellow-workers on the seminary faculty: "In taking cognizance of the demise of our president, we cannot other than thank God, the Lord of the Community, for all that he for all that Dr. Rausch was, and gave to the Church, the seminary, and ourselves."

IOWA DISTRICT CONVENTION BOOSTS CHURCH SCHOOLS

The Iowa District of the American Lutheran church too a step forward in boosting the cause of church schools in June Tuesday at their August convention. The executive committee of the district appointed Pastors L. G. Kaas, F. Schlichtenhaufen, and C. G. Shalkhauser as a special committee to serve with Rev. J. H. Becker of Fond du Lac, Wis., secretary of the ALC Board of Christian Education, in directing the task of making the Iowa district church member church - school conscious.

Rev. Shalkhauser is director of public relations for Wartburg, while Rev. Krebs is president of the alumni association. Definite plans and outline of procedure will be prepared at a meeting to be held later this fall.

Mark Huss, formerly of Wartburg, visited for a short time on the campus while on his way to attend the University of Colorado the coming year.

Seminary Notes

Wartburg seminary held its opening exercises in the chapel on Sept. 7 at 10 a. m. Prof. S. P. Salzmann preached the opening sermon. This service was a memorial service for Dr. E. H. Rausch, who was summoned from this life on Aug. 19.

The Board of Christian Higher Education and the Board of Regents of the seminary met in the seminary board room on Sept. 12. It was decided at this meeting not to elect a president but a professor to take over part of the work of teaching. Dr. M. Reu is the acting president for the present school year.

The total enrollment is forty-six thus far. The seniors have 17, the middlers have 16 and the juniors have 13. The entire junior class consists of graduates of Wartburg college at Waverly. Erhard Shalkhauser is president of the student body. August Engelbrecht, vice president; and Arthur Nickel, secretary-treasurer.

In the next week two more students are expected, one from Germany and the other from Fargo, N. D.

Every Sunday a number of the seniors fill the pulpits of the congregations in and around Dubuque.

The kittenball tournament is well under way. It is anticipated the finals will be run off next week. Following the tournament the touch football season will open. Many of the students are showing their skill at tossing the horseshoe rings.

Freshmen Shake and Quake As Initiation Gets Going

Party Provides Fun and Food for All—Even the Frosh.

By Richard Wall

Thursday, Sept. 13. Up betimes and find mine hair must turned white over night. This condition I blame upon worrying over initiation party Friday eve. Time flies on I find mine self growing more and more agitated. About noon I take a sedative for my over-wrought nerves. This unhappy condition prevails until late into the night of:

Friday, Sept. 16. All this day I fret and fume but alas, all is no avail. It has been truly said, "Time stops for no man." As the dread occasion approached on seven-league boots I paced my room until I found my shoes worn out. It was my thought that they resembled upper classmen in that both were without soles. (Deplorable pun.) Worry haunted me until:

Friday eve. The shadows lengthened among the trees as I wended my way, oh, so slowly, toward the Bastile. Pardon me, I mean the gymnasium. The dread moments of terror dragged by on leaden feet. In a short time all the hurry-scurry of individuals were admitted to the building and found seats. Then we were entertained (?) by a soundless orchestra consisting of the following accomplished artists: Ruth Hilliger, Vernon Stemple, Gerhard Diemer, Dorothy Mott, Marvin Kampfe, Herman Schoenberg, Rachel Brownson, Donald Kabele, Warren Ewy, Clara Andrea, Marvin Peterson and John Dahlke. These musicians were under the able direction of Kenneth Humbert. The audience was favored with a solo by Luther Meyer in connection with the orchestra. I perspired freely from all my pores, and some that didn't belong to me, all thru the selections. My fear grew on me by leaps and bounds. Next, Leon Hoff entertained by speaking German for a few minutes. His performance was followed by a hog-calling contest in which Ferne Oelke, Marie Duis, Eunice Loeb, Florice Plotter, Carolyn Heitner and Marian Heidtke participated. My Great Fear had partially left me by this time and my long lost appetite returned. The hunger was wholly done away with, however, when I saw Myrna Ormsby give an apple-eating demonstration. I experienced a feeling of indignation when I saw the horrible torture that a cow must go through if milked by Olivia Denef, Rudolph Langholz, LaVerne Paup or Edwin Reichenberg. My spirits suffered a sudden revival when I heard the exotic clarinet solo by the maestro, Sir John Pajcek, Esq. Ah, as beautiful as a rose in full bloom. Then the barnyard was desecrated by some fiendish imitations of farm animals by Marjorie Reardon and Alys Wenzel. It was at about this time that I suffered a rapid upturn in the recital by Phillip Leeseberg. Such rhythm in readings and such clarity I have never before experienced. Rounds were sung by a group of talented entertainers, namely, Vivian LaBahn, Armin Leschensky, Alvin Grothe, Arline Gerberding, and Marshall Mosher. The crest of the entertainment was reached when Hershel Opperman and Arlin Permueller skipped rope and Hershel recited the names of all the juniors. After some direly needed refreshment and several games as well as songs, I forged my way home, feeling for a spell and arose for a tasty midnight bite to eat. Crumpets in Tonic, my favorite liquid. Descended hastily the snack and so to bed.

Claude Huth Weds Miss Miriam Kratz

Miriam Kratz, former college nurse, and Claude Huth, last year's assistant coach, were married at 3 p.m. Sept. 10, in St. Paul's Lutheran parsonage.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. R. C. Schlueter and the attendants were Mildred Bergmann and Vincent Huth, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Huth is now employed by St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Waverly. She plans to continue her work at the hospital for a short time. The groom is now in Lafayette, Ind., where the couple will soon make their home.

REPAIRS MADE DURING SUMMER

Pichelmeyer Directed Summer Program of Campus Workers.

Much that was new, besides some 140 freshmen, of course, greeted old Wartburgers as they returned to the campus. Their first surprise came when they reached their dormitories. All the floors in Grossmann hall, the men's dormitory, and Wartburg hall, the girls' dormitory, had been sanded and waxed during the summer vacation.

Some of the Wartburg hall rooms were also repaired and painted. Probably one of the most notable changes was in North hall, the men's dormitory. The rooms on the second floor were painted and the west end remodeled. The first floor, which houses the kitchen and dining room, has been remodeled and enlarged to accommodate the larger number of students. All has been refinished and painted in cream and faun. An electric dish-washer, new tables, and light fixtures are among the new equipment installed.

Music Rooms Redecorated.

In Old Main two of the music instructors' rooms of Professor Heist and Liemohn were redecorated. In Luther hall, the administration building, a change in the arrangement of the offices was made so that the registrar's office was considerably enlarged and two new offices, that of public relations director and office secretary were added. The office of Dean Reed has been remodeled to the north end on the second floor. Besides minor improvements throughout the building, convocation hall and the education departments were both redecorated.

All of the houses owned by the college were painted. This work was done during the summer by college students, the number varying at times from five to ten under the able direction of Charles Pichelmeyer, superintendent of grounds. At present, work is under way to connect the heating system of Wartburg hall with that of Luther hall.

DIOGENES' QUESTIONNAIRE

By Janice Black

It is interesting to note just why some students enter college and what they expect to learn during their years at a seat of higher learning. While "looking over" this year's "crop of freshmen" at dear old Wartburg, my curiosity got the better of me and I could not resist asking some of them "what do you expect to learn in college this year besides a lot of book knowledge?"

One freshman informed me that if she didn't go to college she would just have to stay at home and work. Well that's one reason for attending college.

Dorothy Mott—I expect to learn cooperation and friendship, and also how to take it on the chin.

Norman Orth—There are a lot of things I want to learn this year, such as good manners and how to be a perfect gentleman. (You have the right idea, Norm, so how about passing it on to a few others.)

Gustav Spletstoeser—New ideas and habits. I'm going to be a teacher some day, and so I want to learn how to teach someone else what I know.

Rachel Stevenson—Well, how to take it on the chin, I guess.

Gretchen Hanft—One of the big things is learning how to get along on your own, and how to make true friends. I also believe that everyone here, whether he wants to or not, will learn how to eat fast and how to dress in a couple of seconds.

Ruth Mardorf—How to write a theme and that's something. And how to eat gracefully, though fast.

Frieda Prull—Oh, I don't know. Probably nothing much except what I learn from books.

Jim Mierson—I expect to learn how to get along with other people. (That's a good thing for everyone to learn, Jim).

Fern Oelke—Same as my roommate. How to take it on the chin. (The poor chins.)

Leon Hoff—Now that I'm away from home I expect to learn how to get along on my own, and how to get along with others.

Meinhardt Kettner — It seems only natural that one would learn more cultured habits in his association with others in college. Then, too, we learn better recreation habits.

COACH McKINZIE JOINS FACULTY AT WARTBURG

New Coach Succeeds E. W. Hertel As Athletic Head

A new comer to the Wartburg college faculty, Coach R. McKinzie, director of athletics and teacher of physical education, succeeds Elmer W. Hertel, who is on leave of absence.

Upon the broad shoulders of the new coach fall the duties of moulding a winning gridiron combination out of a small group of enthusiastic football players bespeckled with a few lettermen. Not only the eyes of the student body and faculty at Wartburg, but the eyes of all pigskin supporters in Waverly and the surrounding country will be upon the new athletic head and his products.

Graduate, University of Iowa.

But, able to bear the responsibility of forming a new grid machine, and meeting all criticism and inquiries from students, faculty, and rooters is Coach McKinzie. He comes to coach the Knights after spending a year at the graduate school of the University of Iowa where he recently obtained his M. A. in physical education. The new coach earned his A. B. at Eureka college, Eureka, Ill.

Mr. McKinzie is a native of Blackwell, Okla. He attended the academy at Oklahoma Methodist University for two years before moving to Eureka, where he completed his academy work and four-year college course at Eureka college.

Four Years All Conference.

While in college, Coach McKinzie forged a wide athletic path replete with brilliant performances, honors, and a remarkable record. For four years the records of the Illinois conference also known as the "Little Nineteen," saw the name, R. McKinzie, written therein as all-conference fullback. McKinzie also captained the Eureka grid eleven for four years. Similar is his record in basketball, where he achieved the honor of being all-conference guard for three years besides being captain of the hoop five for those three years. His athletic career in the academy saw him participating in basketball, baseball, and football in the latter sport he held down one of the halfback positions.

Former Eureka Coach.

After being graduated from Eureka college, Coach McKinzie was named as the director of athletics of his alma mater. He coached all sports in Eureka for 16 years before leaving last year to obtain his M. A. at the U. of Iowa.

Mr. Ralph McKinzie, formerly director of athletics and coach at Eureka college, is member of the Little 19 conference located at Eureka, Ill., is now serving as director of athletics and coach at Wartburg.

COUNCIL

Petition for Lights; Plans for Homecoming.

The student council, the organization for the promotion of student interests, has already been active in furthering the cause of the student body in general with effective results.

The council meets every Sunday morning at 10:30 in the girls' dormitory to discuss pertinent questions and to decide upon a plan of action to secure the desired results.

It had been decided early this year that all lights in the dorms be controlled by one central switch and that all lights with no exceptions would be turned out promptly at 11 o'clock. Because of the inconvenience of the new rule to many of the students, especially those who are working, the council petitioned that the lights should not be so controlled. The students are now given the privilege to use lights after 11 o'clock only by special permission of the house councils in the dorms. If these privileges are abused in any way the order will be withdrawn and the previous rule will be in effect. The student council has done its part, and the rest is up to the student body. The council must have its entire cooperation.

The council also presented a petition to the activities committee asking that the meeting time of the clubs be extended to eight o'clock on week nights. The council believes that if the time for organizations were limited only to week-ends and to 7:30 on week nights, there would be little interest shown and the clubs could not function actively. The activities committee has consented to allow organizations the privilege of meeting on week nights longer than 7:30 if it is necessary and if the committee grants special permission.

The Homecoming banquet was the next major item for discussion. The council decided that the seniors should have charge of the banquet and should supervise the work and the plans. The student body as a whole should cooperate with the decorations and every phase to make this Homecoming the greatest and most successful in the history of Wartburg college. These plans were approved by the faculty.

The student council belongs to the students. If students have any problems to present before the council, they should notify the class representatives, who in turn will present the problems to the council.

INJURED KNIGHTS BACK IN LINE-UP

Football hopes for Wartburg college hit a new low this week when four players received injuries during practice scrimmages. After a brief examination, however, it was found that the injuries were not as serious as was at first feared.

John Emmons, regular full back, injured his punting foot, but it is believed that he will be up to par within a few days.

Norbert Augst and Ed Cramer, regular guards, were also injured, but both of them are expecting to hit their stride within a short time. However, David Chadwick's back injury proves to be more serious. Dave, a veteran senior, holding down a backfield assignment, will be out of the lineup for a couple of weeks.

Frederick Brucher visited in Readlyn Sunday evening, Sept. 18.

Paul Oster is working for the city of Waverly disposal system charting the present means of disposal and planning future improvements.

President Braulick addressed the Sumner Rotary club Sept. 13 on the topic, "Why I Am a School Teacher."

NEW COURSES TO BE OFFERED

Music Department Leads With Three Additions To Curriculum.

Eight new courses are being offered by Wartburg this year, with three of them in the music department and the balance distributed in the history, Christianity and science departments.

Three additional courses have been included for music students this year. Fundamentals of Music 101 replaces Introduction to Music 101 which was given last year. Harmony 301 affords the student a study of laws and principles governing harmony. Anyone interested in conducting will have an opportunity to enter the course Conducting the second semester. Private and class lessons in violin and voice are also being given for Wartburg students this year.

Students interested in advanced physics will find a valuable new course in Electron Theory 401. Last year the chemistry department offered Semi-Micro-Analysis 405, an advanced course in chemistry. It is being taught for the second time this year.

Christianity and Modern Thinking 401 gives a student the essentials of Christian philosophy; it is offered for the first time at Wartburg and is available to the upper division.

A new course in history, Ancient History 319, is a survey course of ancient times. Future wives may be interested in two new courses of our Home Economics department which are House Planning 301 and Meal Planning 303.

Science Club Elects Ray Webb Prexy

At the first business meeting of the year, the science club elected Raymond Webb as president, Eleanor Gross, vice president, Norma Neubauer, secretary-treasurer, and David Chadwick as publicity agent.

The following eligible upperclassmen were voted into the club: Paul Scharff, Andrew Timmick, David Chadwick, Ada Mae Little, Lorna Mae Folkerts, and Edgar Nodurft. Prof. Schaefer was also voted in as one of the faculty advisors.

Last Thursday evening the club met again for a special meeting, at which Betty Wiederaenders was accepted as a member. Mr. Webb appointed the program committee for the year, namely, Eleanor Gross, Naomi Young and Paul Oster.

Regular meeting time was set for the second Friday evening in each month at 7:30 p. m. The November meeting will be in the form of a social which will be planned by Lorna Mae Folkerts, David Chadwick, and Ada Mae Little.

Geraldine Sixel, Paul Oster, Naomi Young were appointed to see any eligible upperclassmen who would be interested in joining the science club.

KNIGHTS DROP OPENING GAME TO ESTHERVILLE

Failing to capitalize an scoring opportunities and weakened by injuries, the Wartburg Knights dropped the apening game of the 1938 season to the Estherville Junior College Wolves, 7-0, under the lights at Estherville last night. The Jaysees scored a minute and a half before the close of the second half, following the interception of a Wartburg pass.

The Knights received the first break of the game when Hornby of Estherville punted out of bounds on his own 18 yard line. An 8-yard sweep by Emmons and a 2-yard plunge by Eg Wagner made it first dawn on the Wolves' 8-yard line, but here they stiffened, and an attempted drop-kick by Emmons from the 12-yard line missed by a wide margin.

Knights Threaten Again.

The Orange and Black came right back, however, on a 22-yard pass from Emmons to Rich Wagner, and then Emmons and Eg Wagner placed the ball on the four-yard line on a series of plunges and end runs. Here again the forward wall for the home team stiffened, and on the fourth down Eg Wagner started the ball to the three-inch line, where Estherville held on downs. Some beautiful punting kept the Knights back out of the scoring zone until Estherville got the break it had been waiting for.

Estherville Scores.

An intercepted pass was re - turned 25 yards by Bolte who latersled to Burt, planting the ball on the Knights' 35-yard line. After a 4-yard gain Lange intercepted a short pass, but the play was called back and Wartburg penalized five yards for an offside. A 12-yard sprint by Burt, and a succession of plunges brought the ball to the 8-yard line, and a short left-handed flip over the line, Burt to McNally, produced the lone tally of the game. Hornby place-kicked the extra point.

The Knights were on the de - fensive throughout the entire second half. Emmons went in for only one play, and was forced to leave the tilt with a badly-gashed lip, and August suffered a recurrence of his shoulder injury which forced him to the bench in the opening moments of the half. From then on to the end the game developed into a struggle by the Knights to prevent further scoring, and they succeeded despite blocked punts, intercepted passes and numerous long dashes through the line by Estherville backs.

Opperman Thrills.

Don Opperman, Allison freshman, playing his first football, gave the good-sized crowd a real thrill midway in the final quarter when he scooped an Estherville pass out of the air deep in his own territory and galloped 40 yards down the field before the Estherville safety man brought him down on Estherville's 1-yard line. Another step or two and Opperman would have gone all the way to a possible T.D.

Emmons was the sparkplug of the Knight attack during his stay in the game. Opperman and Eg Wagner played good ball in the backfield, while Rich Wagner, Captain Fruehling, Ed Cramer, Les Stemck played well in the line. For Estherville Cavanaugh and Burt provided the offensive fireworks, while Sanders, Reichman and Hornby stood out in the line.

EMMONS STEPS IT OFF

SIGNALS

Once more we stand on the threshold of a new school year. Our spirits are high and our hearts are filled with the expectation of a joyous year. In particular, we can view the athletic program with hopeful anticipation. The Knights will not succeed in capturing a victory every time they sally forth to meet the foe, but rest assured that the defeats will be kept down to a minimum. Victories don't mean everything. It is not so much whether you win or not, but it's how you played the game that really counts. An honorable defeat is worth a dozen dishonorable victories!

As we stand at the opening of another football season, let us resolve to stick together through thick and thin. Let's support the team! Remember that the Knights' eleven is playing the game for your alma mater. Let's pull together and make this coming season a glorious one to be cherished in our memories for years to come.

Coach McKinzie

The destiny of this year's athletic program lies in the capable hands of Coach McKinzie. Let's give him a hand, together with a sincere wish that his sojourn here at Wartburg may be a happy and successful one. McKinzie is a stranger to this community as well as to the Iowa Conference; however, I feel assured that this strangeness will soon disappear. The Iowa loop offers some stiff competition, but that will not be a novelty to our new mentor since he has coached teams in a conference that is offered equal if not superior competition to that of the Iowa loop.

Coach McKinzie has had long years of coaching experience, coupled with a genuine love of competitive sports. Not only is he interested in intercollegiate sports, but he also plans to give every student at Wartburg a chance to participate in intramural sports.

Let's Have a Band

Football is the most glamorous of all sports. The thundering lines, the plunging backfield, the thrilling sight of a beautiful pass, a spiralling punt, or a nice piece of team blocking, the vociferous shouts from the multi-colored grandstand; the stirring music of a school band—all unite to give gridiron fans the thrill of a lifetime.

Three years have come and gone in the history of our newer and greater Wartburg, but as yet the school band has been a disappointing development. True, we have had a semblance of one but nothing to be really proud of. No one is more convinced a great deal of interest in this project.

This year something has been done along this line. Prof. Heist has taken over the band. Under his capable leadership, Wartburg should have a band to be proud of, providing that—and there's the catch—the student body backs it. I believe that there are enough students who play instruments to form a 40- or 50-piece band. That's what we need! Come on out and toot your horn and make Wartburg's athletic events something colorful and thrilling.

—S—

Homecoming

Already, in this first issue of the Trumpet, I can call your attention to Wartburg's Homecoming, Oct. 15. It's only three weeks away! This is one of the high spots of the college program. Traditions, customs, and memories cluster about every college Homecoming to make it the equivalent of a big family reunion. Remember the date, Oct. 15!

Odds and Ends

Our new coach has found a pretty capable assistant in the person of Henry Koob. Hank acts as trainer, coach, and "keeper of the cage." Hank rides the boys pretty hard, at least so it is rumored, but they haven't re - belled against him as yet.

The football squad has two Redmen, and they're both freshies. Boy, will they scalp the opposing ends! Lew Hulva and his stale puns will be missing from the sports staff this year. He has left the bumble ranks of the sports reporter to join the editorial staff. You can't keep a good man down (He's kind of ab-Normal anyway) Miller the Badger flash, has settled down to his routine of bicycle riding and candy bar munching. He's going to burn the track to cinders next spring. The latest one an Welblen—"Get a Hanff on ar you'll be late for football practice."

A Plea for Volunteers

Wartburg tackles the toughest schedule of her career this year in football. Buena Vista, Penn, Dubuque U., and Upper Iowa will all furnish plenty of stiff competition. The season closes with the Upper Iowa game, the Peacocks being one of the few Iowa elevens to go through the 1937 season undefeated.

As in years past, the Knights will lack reserve power, especially in the backfield. The call for football candidates simply does not elicit a sufficient response to make possible the building up of a strong bunch of reserves. Reserves will be needed this year more than ever. Injuries will take their inevitable toll, serving to weaken the squad.

May I repeate the plea of Coach McKinzie? We need more players! Are there no dark horses in the crowd who may step out to be a Red Grange, a Sammy Baugh, or a Whizzer White? Step right up gents; the line forms to the right!

INTRAMURALS TO BE PROVIDED

Touch Football Will Be Played Next Week As a Starter.

This year's intramural pro - gram promises to be a banner year with touch football, volley ball, basketball, ping pong, badminton, tennis, and perhaps golf. This wide variety should satisfy the desires and ability of every student. A new sport which will be added this year, if at all possible, is badminton. This game is not so old in years and is very similar to tennis. It is played with a racket similar to a tennis racket and a ball made of cork with attached feathers making the ball seemingly float. The game is very tricky, and can be very fun.

Starting this coming week, touch football will be played. It will be played according to classes, the defending champion class in school, since last year's class champions were the seniors, the race for the title is wide open.

The plans for the playing of the other sports have not been definitely decided, but will in all probability be played by teams chosen by a group of appointed leaders who will be responsible for the teams' practice and the playing of games.

What is wanted more than anything else in this year's program is participation by all the classes. If everyone will cooperate we can have a lot of fun and the exercise involved will benefit all of us.
